Special Three Reel Kalem Production To-night
Detective William J. Burns in the
"EXPOSURE OF THE LAND SWINDLERS"

Detective William J. Burns personally appears in this production, and it is the only one in which he does appear. In it we see portrayed the scientific methods of criminal investigation by means of a dictograph. The story is based on actual experiences of Mr. Burns. Some of the scenes are laid in the Senate chamber at Washington. There is an exciting chase between a train and an auto, the criminals escaping and being chased.

Miss ALICE JOYCE, Kalem's leading lady, leads the supporting company.

SERVICES FOR WAR VETERANS

Corporal Skelly Post Honors Memory of those who Died during the Past Year. Exercises at Catholic Cemetery. County Exercises.

To pay a tribute of love and affection to the memory of comrades who died during the past year the members of Corporal Skelly Post and their friends gathered at the Post Room Sunday afternoon. Twelve vacant chairs, each draped with crepe and bearing two small flags, told the number of those who answered the final summons since the memorial service of last year. These veterans were:

Philip L. Houck, Sept. 21, 1912.
James Hersh, August 4, 1912.
Amos H. Lady, August 22, 1912.
John Toot, July 9, 1912.
Joseph A. Crabbs, January 13, 1913.
Jacob Kitzmiller, May 5, 1913.
William H. Rupp, February 25, '13.
Perry J. Tawney, Feb. 13, 1913.
George Englebert, July 13, 1912.
J. Martin Thompson, Sept. 1, 1912.
Jefferson Cassatt, Feb. 16, 1913.
Alexander Little, March 1, 1913.
William T. Ziegler presided over the services which opened with the singing of "God Bless Our Native Land." Dr. A. E. Wagner, of Altoona, offered prayer, and the ritualistic service of the Grand Army followed, including the reading of the war records of the departed comrades by the Post Adjutant Calvin Hamilton. Rev. J. R. Hutchinson read the Scripture lesson and after the singing of "America" the sermon was preached by Rev. J. Charles Gardner, who had as his subject "Honorable Scars." Rev. Mr. Gardner has been ill for the past month and was compelled to sit while delivering the greater part of the discourse which was listened to with earnest attention by the entire audience present. The service closed with the prayer by the chaplain, the singing of "Am I a Soldier of the Cross" and the benediction by Rev. Mr. Gardner.

The annual procession and decoration of the graves in the Catholic Cemetery took place at twilight Sunday and was followed by the evening service in the church which was attended by a representation from Corporal Skelly Post 9.

Heading the procession from the church to the cemetery were the cross and the Stars and Stripes. Many little girls, prettily dressed in white with veils and carrying flowers, followed while the older members of the Sodality and the little boys, also carrying flowers, made up the next sections of the procession. Grand Army veterans led the last division with the men of the church.

All the way from the church to the cemetery the column sang and it made a beautiful as well as impressive sight. At the cemetery all gathered around the cross where Fr. Boyle offered prayer and a hymn was sung. Owing to threatening weather any further service was deemed unwise and the veterans started at once to strew the flowers over the graves of their dead comrades, marked by new flags. The return to the church followed and a large congregation was present for the service. The altars were beautifully decorated with flowers, and in addition to vespers there was the crowning of the statue of the Virgin, and a sermon by Fr. Boyle.

Services at Fairfield

The memorial services in the Reformed church at Fairfield Sunday afternoon were largely attended. The services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Hartzel, assisted by Rev. Guy B. King. Mr. Hartzel took his text from Exodus, 12th chapter part of the 14th verse, "And this day shall be unto you for a memorial," also part of the 26th verse "What mean ye by this service?" The music was rendered by the male chorus. The following survivors of the Civil War were in attendance: William H. Low, William W. Paddock, Paxton H. Riley, I. Howard Moore, Emanuel E. King, Peter S. Harbaugh, James O. Mickle, Charles F. Hoffman, John C. McLaughlin, William H. Rentzel, Joseph H. Creager, Henry J. Beard, John F. Peters, James Bishop, Adam Snyder, Adam Frey, J. Madison Shindeldecker, George F. Sites, John C. Sites, Samuel Walter and Daniel Woodring. The following veterans died and were buried in Union Cemetery, Fairfield, since last Memorial Day.

June 11th 1912, William C. Strausbaugh, who served in Co. B. 138th Pennsylvania Volunteers.
August 6th 1912, Henry J. Waddle, who served in Co. E, 125th Pennsylvania Volunteers also in Co. D 11th Md.

February 13, 1913 John F. Low, who served in Co. B. 21st Pennsylvania Cavalry.

FEARED DANGER FROM DYNAMITE

Railroad Building Gang become Anxious for Money and Precautions are Taken to Prevent Dangerous Results in Town.

A small tumult prevailed in the eastern end of town on Saturday evening when word spread that the negroes employed on the Western Maryland track work here were liable to fire a barrel of oil and set off a quantity of dynamite stored there for use on the railroad operations.

It seems that the argument was over the time of paying the hands. The contractors, W. C. Zink and Brother, have a system whereby they make complete payment at the termination of the contract. The hands could not see things in that light and wanted immediate payment with the result that all but three or four went on strike. The representative of the contractor, with the faithful ones, stood on guard for quite a while to prevent the rumored attempt to cause trouble which, if successful, would have caused a heavy explosion and, doubtless, considerable damage.

This morning several of the men quit finally and the others went back to work, the trouble being settled temporarily at least. Saturday night Edward Reed and James Terry, two of the men employed by the firm of Pugh and Hubbard on the street work in town got into a fight while drunk and both were somewhat cut up with knives. The men, it appears, are good friends but the effect of liquor was responsible for the argument and after arrest by Chief Shealer and a hearing before Squire Harnish on a charge of disorderly conduct they shook hands and were prepared to go back to work today. Each had to pay fine and costs amounting to $8.25.

Other activities of the borough officers Saturday evening resulted in the arrest of six drunks who were given berths in the village lock-up until they had had ample time for repentance.

Nellie Cross, colored, was arrested this morning by Chief Shealer charged with keeping a disorderly house. She gave bail for a hearing at half past five this evening.

HURT ON RAILROAD

Gettysburg Young Man Painfully Hurt on Sunday Morning.

Oliver McPherson, of 32 East Middle street, was painfully, and for a while it was thought seriously, hurt at Mount Holly Springs about ten o'clock Sunday morning when he was struck on the side of the head by the step of a shifted freight car. Mr. McPherson is a freight brakeman on the Reading and had thrown the switch for the on-coming car but failed to get out of the way in time and the step struck him as he was in a stooping position. He was rendered unconscious and was later taken to the office of Dr. Irvin in Mount Holly where his wounds were dressed after which he was brought to Gettysburg. It was several hours after the accident before he regained consciousness. He is suffering somewhat from the injuries to his head but it is not believed that they will prove serious.

LOST TO DICKINSON

Gettysburg Base Ball Team Loses after Game is Apparently Won.

The Gettysburg College base ball team lost to Dickinson at Carlisle on Saturday in the ninth inning by the score of 4 to 3. Gettysburg scored three runs in the sixth on errors and led 3 to 2 in the ninth. With two men on base, two out and two strikes on the batter, Dickinson secured a hit scoring two runs and winning the game. As one of the runners passed third base he knocked down Myers of Gettysburg who was standing on the bag. Goldstein, a Dickinson coacher, struck Myers, it is said, and a general fight ensued in which fists passed rapidly but no serious damage was done. Hoch, who pitched the latter part of the game for Dickinson struck out nine of the ten men who faced him.

SERMON TO THE SENIOR CLASS

Graduating Class of the High School Hear Counsel from Local Minister. Baccalaureate Sermon. Service Largely Attended.

Commencement week in the public schools of town opened Sunday evening with the baccalaureate sermon to the Senior class of the High School in the Presbyterian church. The service was largely attended by friends of the young graduates who occupied, with the faculty, a block of seats reserved in the central portion of the room.

Peonies and roses in abundance were used in the decorations about the chancel. Mr. Lotz, of college, played a violin solo for the offertory. The sermon to the graduates was preached by Rev. F. E. Taylor, pastor of the church.

On the subject, "Making a Name", the speaker said: "Develop great persons. All else will follow." Underlying the effort to give our children an education is the greater purpose to secure strong character and upright citizenship. On these our country stands. The tests of the day tax manhood to the utmost.

Reversing the cynical statement of Nietzsche, we say, "Nature's six or seven great men are her way of arriving at a people." A few great persons give a nation standing before the world, and lift the whole to a higher plane.

You make a name whether or no. What the name is which you have made during the past twelve school years will influence mightily the place you will take on leaving school and will determine the whole trend of your life.

In the great business enterprises of to-day the chief stone in the foundation is always a name. What then is success? Is it a full pocket? political preferment? popularity? It may be. But only if these are won by worth, and if over all is an untarnished name.

Name as commonly used means reputation, honorable station, fame. To make a name is to bring one's self into prominence or popularity. But the name that is enduringly great is won by self-devotion. To be utterly lost in a noble work, to render unselfish service to others is the way to a name. And one so lost in his work accomplishes vast results because his work is his pleasure.

To unselfishness add perseverance both in preparation for your life-work and in doing the work. Brilliance often burns out early. Real genius is his who has the power to persevere. This discovered America. This surmounted the ice-barriers of the poles; and this is building the Panama Canal. He will succeed who does not know how to quit.

The elements mentioned furnish the raw material for making a name. But until these are fused in the fire of a great faith an enduring name cannot be made. Faith lacking, we lack the life. We have no adequate control in conduct, no incentive to attempt greatly, and no assurance of reward.

Faith yields not to the popular habits and opinions; stands out against all wrong; bravely holds to principles in the face of the world. Faith finds its model for a name in that lowly Prince of Nazareth who feared no foe, and Faith fashions its life after the Life of Him.

NEW STAMP BOOKS

Two New Ones Soon To Be Issued. For Local Sale.

Designs for two new stamp books, one to contain 96 one-cent stamps and the other 24 one-cent and 24 two-cent stamps, have been approved by the postoffice department and it is expected that they will soon be put on sale locally. All stamp books are sold at one cent each above the face value of the stamps they contain. This small margin yielded a profit last year to the Government of $180,000.

FORMER MAYOR IS ARRESTED

Edward Rowe, Former Burgess of Emmitsburg, is Arrested Charged with Embezzlement. Outcome of Recent Liquor License Trouble.

Former Mayor Edward H. Rowe, of Emmitsburg, was arrested Saturday evening by County Constable Hauver, charged with forgery and embezzlement.

The writs were issued by Justice of the Peace Marion Miller, of Woodsboro, who committed him to jail in default of $2,200 bail—$1,000 on the forgery charge and $1,200 for alleged embezzlement. Soon after being placed in charge of the Sheriff he was released on a writ of habeas corpus by Judge Worthington, who fixed his bail at $500 for a further hearing on Thursday in Frederick.

The charges date back to 1906, when Rowe and Mrs. Martha Hoppe were co-administrators of the estate of the late Reuben Morrison. It is alleged that he forged the mark of Mrs. Hoppe to a paper writing and obtained $1,300.

The writs were sworn out Saturday by Mrs. Hoppe. Rowe declares the charges are without foundation and were trumped up because of bad feeling between himself and Justice Miller. He said the estate in question has long been settled and the settlement ratified by the court having jurisdiction. He said he was not allowed to have a hearing in Emmitsburg, where he could have secured bail, but was compelled to go with the constable to Woodsboro, 18 miles distant, and was given no opportunity to secure bail. He says he will be able to disprove the charges at the hearing.

Several weeks ago while Mr. Rowe was Mayor of Emmitsburg, he had a clash with Constable Hauver and Justice Miller over the ejectment of Brecher, proprietor of the Slagle Hotel. Mr. Rowe was arrested and placed in jail. He was soon afterward released and several days later sued Hauver and Miller for $5,000 damages each. The case is docketed for the next term of court. Since the trouble Mr. Rowe was defeated for re-election for Mayor by Mayor Matthews.

BILLS APPROVED

Governor Approves Bills of Interest in this County.

Governor Tener has signed the following bills of interest locally:

Authorizing Chestnut Tree Blight Commission to destroy trees of other species which may be affected by blight.

Providing that contracts involving over $500 cannot be made by first class township commissioners except in writing and after due advertisement.

Limiting expenses for burial of indigent persons to $35.

Authorizing corporations to declare at any time dividends out of net profits.

Permitting counties, cities and boroughs singly or jointly to appropriate money for connecting improved streets with a state highway, which is less than a mile from limits and will connect municipality with State highway.

Regulating salaries of district attorneys in counties having under 150,000 population.

The Lowers Bill requiring the reading in the public schools of at least ten verses from the Bible every morning without comment. The failure or omission of teachers to observe this law will result in dismissal.

HELPS TO MAKE RAID
Gettysburg Constable Assists in Raid on Train Riders.

Charles H. Wilson on Sunday assisted in rounding up twelve Western Maryland train riders at Chambersburg. All were placed in jail. The habit of riding trains and especially on Sunday has become a great nuisance to the trainmen and the officials are desirous of having their road free from the vagrants. The railroad officials had arranged to make a raid on Sunday on the Middle Division. John Temple and Edward Comenga, of Baltimore, arrested three negroes in Hagerstown and on one were found two revolvers, one of which was a large weapon. Detectives Burnett, Mead and Charles Wilson were on the Cut-Off between Hagerstown and Chambersburg and lodged twelve in the Chambersburg jail.

SMALL INCREASE

Battle Anniversary Hotel Rates in Chambersburg.

The report has been circulated that the hotels of Chambersburg are charging exorbitant rates for guests securing accommodations during the great encampment at Gettysburg in July. The Chambersburg Repository says:

"Inquiry among our hotel men proves this to be a very great error. The Chambersburg hotels have advanced their rates somewhat but very little over the charges generally made. They are compelled to do this because of the extra expense they have been put to. One hotel in town has been obliged to purchase over $400 worth of linen, several dozen cots and additional china. Others have been required to do likewise. We are informed that the highest rate prevailing in town for a single person in room with bath is $5.00 per day. The rates at this hotel have been advanced but $1.00 per day all along the line.

"The hotel men are perfectly justified in asking this increase. They have been put at heavy expense and should weather conditions be such as to make the celebration a failure the hotel men will be badly hurt financially. They are running the risk and deserve the returns they are asking."

DECLINES RE-ELECTION
Dr. Samuel A. Martin, Principal, Declines Re-Election.

After a successful administration extending over a period of six years, Dr. Samuel A. Martin, principal of the Cumberland Valley State Normal school at Shippensburg, well known by many of Adams County's school teachers, has declined re-election for the coming year. No successor has as yet been elected to take his place but it is probable that the trustees will decide upon one within a short time.

Last week the board of trustees held their regular meeting and in addition to the transaction of regular business decided to elect Professor Martin for the coming term. However, when notified of the election, Mr. Martin, for reasons not stated, declined the election. He has not as yet announced his future plans.

HELD ON CHARGES OF UNDERVALUING

Accused of Passing Goods Consigned to Wanamaker.

DISCLOSURES ARE PROMISED

Former Customs Examiner Held In $5000 Bail In Philadelphia—Payment of $100,000 Started Probe.

Philadelphia, May 26. — Robert S. Chandler in the local customs service, was held in $5000 bail by United States Commissioner Craig for a further hearing in the federal building on a charge of "unlawfully and fraudulently passing valuable and dutiable merchandise imported from abroad and consigned to John Wanamaker, of this city, as goods of no value."

Sensational disclosures, showing how the government has lost thousands of dollars through the alleged fraudulent passing of imported goods into this country without payment of duty are promised by the government.

The arrest of Brierley is the first prosecution in an investigation started two weeks ago by Henry N. Arnold, assistant to United States Attorney General McReynolds. Mr. Arnold was sent to Philadelphia from Washington to investigate the payment of $100,000 by John Wanamaker to the United States treasury department on March 3 last in settlement of claims of the government upon importations alleged to have been undervalued at the Philadelphia port.

Since the beginning of the investigation much secrecy has surrounded the work of Mr. Arnold and his assistants. The hearing in the federal building was no exception, as all charges against Brierley were made at a secret session. There was evidence enough, however, for the commissioner to hold Brierley under heavy bail. The testimony, it is said, was of a highly sensational character, and disclosed the methods by which the alleged fraudulent imports were made possible.

Henry H. Waters, deputy collector of customs of New York, who was assigned to participate in the investigation of the Wanamaker imports, was the only witness called. The warrant was issued on the affidavit of Frank L. Gabarino, special agent of the department of justice, and who is assisting in the case.

Deputy Collector Waters testified that upward of 400 cases of valuable merchandise consigned to John Wanamaker from foreign ports had been passed in this manner. He declared that he had gone over the books in the appraiser's office from 1906 to 1909, and found that cases of merchandise involved as of no value, had been passed as such, although they should have been examined and the duty marked on the invoice. An examination of the books of John Wanamaker was made, and it was disclosed that in many instances goods had been passed free of duty that were of a high commercial value and on which a large duty should have been levied.

It was the duty of Appraiser Brierley to examine the contents of the case to which the invoice referred and see if that statement was correct. Whether Brierley made an examination of the 400 cases found to have been passed is not known, but it was testified that directly opposite to the mark of "no value" on the invoice Brierley noted in red ink that an examination showed the case to contain sample posters or some other matter of no commercial value. Wanamaker's books, however, Mr. Waters said, showed the real contents to be valuable flags, tapestries and other textiles.

FOUND DEAD IN WOODS

New York Youth Shot In Mountains Near Staunton, Va.

New York, May 26.—Henry L. Sanger, nineteen years old, the son of William Cary Sanger, of Sangerfield, N. Y., once assistant secretary of war, was found dead in the mountains near Staunton, Va.

This news was conveyed in a dispatch from Staunton. Young Sanger is believed to have shot himself accidentally while exploring the woods. A revolver was found by his side.

The young man disappeared a week ago and agents of his family have since been searching the mountains for him.

Four Drown While Swimming.

Russellville, Ark., May 26.—Four persons were drowned while swimming in the Illinois river seven miles north of here. Frances Crawford, nineteen years old, went beyond her depth, and her father, W. A. Crawford, went to her aid. He was unable to rescue her, and Miss Ruth Vandlandingham, a teacher, and Miss Vera Meade went to the assistance of the father and his daughter. All four drifted into deeper water and suddenly sank. The bodies have not been recovered.

Hanged Himself In Bed.

Bloomington, Pa., May 26.—Bedfast for the last two months with paralysis, Aaron Grover, seventy years old, a Main township farmer, committed suicide. A rope was attached to the bed to enable him to raise himself. This he twisted around his neck three times and after passing the other end over the bedpost and attaching it to a door knob, allowed himself to drop. He was dead when found.

LEAVES FOR THE ARCTICS

Stefansson to Spend Four Years In Exploration.

New York, May 26.—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, left this city to take up the four years of Arctic exploration in which he is to engage for the Canadian government.

It is to be known as the Canadian Arctic expedition, and the work will be carried on under the auspices of the naval service of the Dominion. Before leaving for Ottawa the explorer spent several hours at the American Museum of Natural History.

REFUSE TO BUY 320,000 CHICKENS

New York Retailers Accused of Graft Plot.

New York, May 26.—New York's chicken famine has reached an acute stage. More than 320,000 live fowls were offered for sale by the receivers at the West Washington market. Not a crate was sold.

Meantime more chicken trains have rolled in from the south and west and by tonight 420,000 barnyard birds will be in New York, all requiring food and water.

It is the greatest glut of live poultry in the history of the business. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals issued a statement asserting that behind the "famine" and back of the so-called "hand-fed chicken" crusade is a plot on the part of the slaughterers and retailers to "graft" millions of dollars of unfair profits at the expense of the consumers.

"The slaughterers and retailers," said the statement, "want the shippers to deliver live chickens here with empty crops and in a starving condition, for it would take from twenty-four to forty-eight hours without food to empty a chicken's crop. To meet this demand would mean a violation of section 185 of the penal code.

"Having gotten the live chickens here in a starved condition, what the slaughterers and storekeepers then would do would be to stuff the fowls with corn and then kill them with full crops—and then sell the chickens to the customers at full price, charging for the corn in the crop. That is the whole game. That is what is causing the famine."

The S. P. C. A. estimates that the slaughterers and retailers can stuff two to four ounces of corn at three cents a pound into each chicken, and then charge for the corn at 16 cents of more a pound. The extra profit would average two to four cents per fowl, or $200,000 to $400,000 a year, based on an estimated consumption of 10,000,000 live fowl.

Killed by Rain of Bricks.

Philadelphia, May 26.—Buried under a pile of bricks, with only a face protruding, the dead body of Dennis Moloney was found in the Jarden brick works, where he was in the habit of sleeping. It is thought that the bricks fell on him as he slept when they were dislodged in some mysterious manner from a truck that stood nearby.

NOW FACE REAL JOB ON TARIFF

Hearings About Over, Democrats Must Construct Bill.

HAVE MASS OF PROTESTS

Senate Committee Hoped to Finish Work This Week, But Measure Will Probably Not Be Ready Before Next Week.

Washington, May 26.—The tariff situation will reach an interesting period during the week, when the senate finance sub-committees get down to the actual work of writing the Underwood bill.

When the private hearings close tomorrow the three sub-committees, headed by Senators Stone, Williams and Johnson, will lock themselves up, roll up their sleeves and begin to sift through the mass of material procured in the private hearings and through briefs filed with them by protesting manufacturers.

Although Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, had hoped the work of revising the schedules could be concluded this week, there is little prospect of it, and the bill probably will not be ready for the Democratic caucus until next week.

Senator Williams' sub-committee will take up the insurance feature of the income tax section of the bill, when Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance company appears on behalf of the insurance interests. Another matter to occupy this sub-committee will be the amendments to the administrative features of the bill proposed by Assistant Attorney General Denison and Assistant Secretary of the treasury Curtis. The amendments being seriously considered are one to give the secretary of the treasury the right to proclaim "valuations" of ad valorem goods and another to prohibit attorneys taking up disputed cases on a contingent fee basis.

In support of these amendments the government officials have filed with the senate sub-committee a brief on the subject, in which it is maintained that $1,390,000 is not an unreasonable estimate of an annual saving that might be effected as a result of their adoption. It is pointed out that the refunds of duties aggregated in each of the fiscal years 1911 and 1912 approximately $1,500,000. Half of this, the brief says, usually goes to the importers as "yelveit," and the other half to attorneys and brokers.

"It is estimated," says the brief, "that 80 per cent of this may be saved, but call it $1,000,000. The expenses of the system of litigation (the board of $155,000, and the staff of the department of justice, $50,000) are annually $205,000, of which there might be a saving of one-half, but call it $100,000. The expenses of the appraising service of the treasury department aggregate nearly $2,000,000 a year, of which some will undoubtedly be saved. It is impossible to estimate how much, but call it one-tenth or $200,000. Total saving for the year, $1,300,000."

The brief further sets forth in detail that the amount of refunds at the port of New York alone, due to litigation over customs, aggregated for 1913 to April 30, 1913, inclusive, $5,997,000.

APPLIED MATCH TO WIFE

Murderer Confesses to Pouring Oil Over Her After Blow.

Richmond, Ind., May 26.—Seth Lucas, a farmer, has confessed that he murdered his wife with a "billy," poured kerosene over the bedding and set fire to his home near Williamsburg last September, according to an announcement by Police Chief German. Lucas, in his signed confession, said that he killed his wife because she was always nagging him and "because she had threatened to put aspidier in my cup." He said they had been having trouble over money matters for two years.

Lucas said he hit his wife with a "billy," then poured kerosene on her. "The first match I lighted," continues the confession, "my wife blew out. I then lighted another and set fire to her. My wife shrieked and made a loud outcry." He said he struck her again with the "billy."

NEWS FROM THE TOWNS NEARBY

What our Neighboring Towns are Doing. Improvements and Items of Interest from the Cumberland Valley and Elsewhere.

Hanover is agitating the purchase of a motor fire equipment, pointing to York and Littlestown as other places where the purchase of such equipment has been determined upon.

Chambersburg streets had an era of darkness one night last week, owing to a break at the power plant. Gettysburg had a similar experience by the breaking of one of the main feed wires for the arcs.

The fact that Waynesboro is situated so close to the state line, near Maryland, hinders the enforcement of the new cigarette law so far as that town is concerned. Howard Wingert and H. B. Zimmerman, two youths of that place, were arrested recently for smoking cigarettes and, when asked where they obtained them, told the officer that they had bought the cigarettes in Hagerstown.

For conduct unbecoming to members of the Carlisle police force officers Smith and Spangler have been suspended. First ward patrolman, Smith, has been indefinitely suspended, and second ward patrolman Spangler will be laid off for three weeks.

Rev. and Mrs. D. H. Baker, of Hanover, were at the Mummet cemetery one day recently decorating the graves of their beloved dead, and his comrades of the army. This custom Mr. Baker has kept up for a number of years and he hopes his children and grandchildren will continue it after he is gone.

The Middletown & Swatara Water Co. have consented to place a fountain in the circle at Center Square, Middletown. The circle has been finished and ready to be sodded, with the exception of a nine foot plot in the center, where flowers will be planted.

Word was received in Carlisle with enthusiasm of the recommendation of the appropriations committee to the State Legislature of an appropriation of $15,500 for the construction of a new hospital for Carlisle. It is expected that the building contemplated will cost $50,000 furnished, and in a short time a campaign to raise the balance of this amount will be inaugurated in Carlisle. Prominent in the work are the trustees and board of lady managers of the Todd Hospital and the trustees of the new Carlisle Hospital. It is planned to consolidate the two.

Jewelers from all over the State are in Harrisburg this week attending the eighth annual convention of the Pennsylvania Retail Jewelers' Association in the Board of Trade.

The Greencastle stone crushing firm of Greenawalt & Swartz has taken the contract to supply the crushed stone for the 7,000-gallon reservoir which the Mercersburg Water Co. will build in the mountain above Buchanan's birthplace in order to increase Mercersburg's water supply.

HAVE YOU SOMETHING TO SELL TO THE PUBLIC?

If so, do you tell the public about it?

If you do, how do you do it?

And what sort of reputation is back of the merchandise you are offering?

The answer to these questions may spell success or failure to many a merchant.

From an intimate association with a wide circle of concerns, merchandising all the necessities of life, we venture to say: "The quickest and surest way to reach the public is through the columns of a dependable daily newspaper like THE TIMES—one that has a high standing in the community. It serves, and has the confidence of its readers."

"The most dependable articles sold to-day are those to which the manufacturer is not afraid to attach his label—that is to say, his reputation."

"Retail merchants are now joining hands with the manufacturer, and the public is thus doubly guaranteed against inferiority."

"The combination of manufacturer and retailer plus good, clean newspaper advertising means success to them both with the maximum of satisfaction to the purchaser."

DECKHAND KILLED BY PLUNGE OF AUTO

Car Crashes Through Gates on Ferryboat.

Philadelphia, May 26.—One man was drowned and three injured when an automobile owned by Charles H. Buckley, of this city, plunged halfway over the front of the ferryboat Wildwood as it was preparing to dock at the Camden slip.

The man drowned was William Goose, a deckhand on the boat. He was struck and fell into the river when the machine plunged through the guard rail. Buckley was accompanied in the car by two men and a little girl.

Women shrieked and fainted and the men on the boat fought with one another trying to get to the moving automobile and pull it back on the boat. Those in the rear of the boat rushed toward the front to see what had happened. The deckhands struck out right and left in their endeavors to keep the surging mass back. They feared that scores would be swept over the end of the boat into the water.

The auto stood in the driveway near the iron guard rails. It is said that the clutch had not been set or failed to work properly. When the captain of the boat rang for speed to be shut off the boat slowed. This caused the auto to roll forward.

Buckley was not in the machine, but was standing beside it. Goose, the deck hand, was standing on the front of the boat, preparatory to casting over the gang plank. He turned in time when the passengers screamed, but tried to hold the machine back.

It crashed through the iron guard, hurling Goose into the water. Then the auto hung suspended, with the front nearly in the water. The rear wheels were tangled in the wreckage of the guard rails. The machine hung head downward, but the occupants clung to their seats. The injured were pinned under the wreckage.

M'CARTY'S DEATH STUNS SPORTS

Pelky's Solar Plexus Blow Was Fatal.

LIVED ONLY EIGHT MINUTES

Crowd of 10,000 Was Shocked Over the Tragic Ending of Bout Scheduled to Go Ten Rounds.

Calgary, Alberta, May 26.—The followers of the prize ring in this city are stunned at the sudden death of Luther McCarty, who claimed the heavyweight championship.

It is believed that McCarty's heart was affected and that the blow delivered by Arthur Pelky caused the heart to collapse.

McCarty's death was caused by a chance blow delivered somewhere in the region of the solar plexus, and he never regained consciousness after the terrific blow which sent him sprawling senseless on his face in the ring.

Northwestern mounted police upon a charge of manslaughter, but was released a short time afterward on bail.

The fight was short and bitterly contested. McCarty, outwitted heavily by his giant opponent, was confident of victory, and with the prestige and confidence of a champion entered the battle with a grim determination to end it as quickly as possible.

The crowd had just settled down to witness what was looked upon as a hard and gruelling battle. The men felt each other out, neither doing much damage. McCarty suddenly landed a blow in Pelky's face and then missed Pelky clinches, and when they broke away the crowd cheered. McCarty again landed a right on Pelky's head and Pelky fainted.

McCarty was drawn into the trap and opened his guard. Quick as a tiger Pelky rushed the champion, landing a terrific blow just below the heart.

McCarty did not drop. He stood reeling about, dazed. Pelky was about to strike him again, when he noticed that McCarty's eyes were closed. He stepped back, McCarty still swaying.

The thousands who began cheering Pelky's rush became silent as they watched McCarty. Suddenly the stricken boxer raised his hands in the attitude of self-defense, but they dropped again, his arms limp. He made a feeble effort to strike a blow, and before Pelky could rush him, McCarty's body stiffened, his heels clinking together and his spine rigid. He fell with his head bent forward, his forehead striking the canvas a glancing blow. As he fell Referee Sid Smith, of Chicago, began counting. At the count of ten he waved Pelky away and pronounced him the winner.

Seconds rushed into the ring and McCarty was lifted to his corner. The arena was a bedlam. Believing it a plain knockout, the spectators threw their hats into the ring, in the air and cheered as only a crowd can cheer when a new champion arrives.

Pelky, winner of the battle at such heavy cost, stood at one side of his fallen adversary. He scarcely could realize what had happened. By this time the referee had become alarmed. He called for a doctor, and several responded.

The crowd, realizing that something more serious than a plain knockout had occurred, rushed the ring. The mounted police were called in to clear the ring, and meantime the physicians worked over the stricken man for eight minutes. Then they pronounced him dead, but continued their efforts to resuscitate him by artificial respiration for more than an hour.

There probably were 10,000 men in the arena when it became known that McCarty was dead. A few minutes before, whetted by the lust of prize battle in the preliminaries that had been fought, it had been a howling mob, but the news put a quietus on the spirits of the spectators and they filed quietly toward the exits, shocked by the tragic end of the battle.

JAPAN'S RULER GAINS

Crisis of Illness Passed and Recovery Is Practically Assured.

Tokio, May 26.—Emperor Yoshihito is now considered practically out of danger, according to the statement issued by Count Watanabe, the imperial master of ceremonies.

The emperor passed another favorable night, and as the crisis was reached Friday night it is believed only careful attention is necessary to restore his majesty to health.

Throughout the illness he showed the utmost devotion. He still refused to leave the bed, and acts as a nurse, insisting upon personally giving the emperor his medicine and food.

CULEBRA'S EARTH CUT THROUGH AMID CHEERS

Panama Canal at Grade From Ocean to Ocean.

Panama, May 26.—When two steam shovels met at the Culebra cut, one working from the east and the other from the west, the first through cut of the Panama canal at grade, from ocean to ocean, was completed.

The whistle blew and hundreds of workmen quit their jobs to cheer when the big engines scooped out the last thread of earth that joined the two continents.

There is still excavating to be done in broadening the canal, but less than 3,000,000 cubic yards of earth remain to be removed to bring it to the necessary width. The amount of excavating, however, will be increased more or less by slides.

PROGRESSIVES MAKE PLANS

Will Put Candidates in Field to Contest Senatorial Positions.

New York, May 26.—Decision that the Progressive party will continue its fight as a distinct party organization was reached by the executive committee at a two days' session at the national headquarters here.

Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, Ohio, in making the announcement at the close of the meeting said that in every state where a United States senator is to be elected next year the Progressive party will have a candidate. Party candidates in every state and in every congressional district also will be nominated, he said.

"Reports from every part of the country show conclusively there is no sentiment amongst Progressives for any kind of party amalgamation," Mr. Brown asserted. "On the contrary, the reports are unanimous that Progressives everywhere resent every such suggestion."

George W. Perkins, chairman of the executive committee, presided at the meeting.

Cat Catches Eel For Kittens.

Cumberland, Md., May 26.—C. K. Blough, of Salenville, saw a cat come from a nearby creek with a two-foot eel in its mouth. The eel was alive and had wrapped itself around the cat's neck. The cat took the eel to the barn and ate its head off and then turned it over to its kittens.

Getting Too Much For His Money

To the Editor of the PUBLIC LEDGER:

Sir—This is a word of protest from an old-time PUBLIC LEDGER reader. How can you expect a business man to give time enough to read the paper such as you send this morning? You give too much for two cents and ask too much to think a man can take the time from his business to read and digest all the good things in the PUBLIC LEDGER.

The gentleman is unduly disturbed. It is no more intended that any one person should read all the good things in the PUBLIC LEDGER than for a man who has paid a dollar for a table d'hôte dinner to feel obliged to eat all the dishes on the menu card.

If you find that the new and larger PUBLIC LEDGER gives you too much to read, just select what you are most interested in—and notice that there is room to give a fuller account of it than formerly. Go by the News Summary and the Index on the first page.

Sir Edwin Durning Lawrence, "probably the best laughed at man in the world today," has spent a million dollars in an effort to prove that Rabelais wrote the works attributed to Shakespeare. He lives in a palatial home in London, where he has a library valued at $250,000, entirely composed of volumes bearing on the subject which has occupied his time and wealth. Sir Edwin is aged seventy-six, has been in parliament and is also entitled to sit as a magistrate.

Had Husband Picked.

Jeannette, in her first year at school, is very fond of milk. One day when she had asked for a second glass of milk her mother said:

"Daughter, if you like milk so well you'll surely marry a farmer when you grow up."

"Well, I 'spect Charles Robert will turn out to be a farmer, then," the little girl replied. Indianapolis News.

HUMOR OF THE DAY

What He Was Doing.

That it is sometimes mighty easy to get the truth if we ask for it was demonstrated the other evening by a story told by George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey at Washington.

One afternoon a philanthropic party visited a public school in the poorer section of a big city and while making a study of the conditions in the knowledge factory thought it meet to ask the youngsters a few questions.

"Can any little boy or girl tell me," said he very impressively, "what is the greatest of all the virtues?"

Nothing doing. Every bright little face looked as if the mind back of it was doing a hard piece of thinking, but there was no reply.

"We will try it again," encouragingly said the philanthropist. "What am I doing when I give up my time and pleasure to come and talk to you in your school?"

"I know, mister!" exclaimed Johnny Smith, raising his hand and snapping his fingers.

"Well, what am I doing, little man?" smilingly asked the visitor.

"Buttin' in!" was the startling rejoinder of Johnny.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

On the Verge.

The old gentleman who came upon a badly dazed person in a bystreet of London inquired the cause of his agitation.

"My good man, what is the matter?" "Matter, sir?" repeated the confused individual. "Matter, sir! Gen'lman's 'oss run away with a brougham, sir—never see hanythink like it in all my life—down 'e comes the 'ill with the shaves—a drangling all about 'is legs—knocks a butcher's cart into a linen draper's shop—bang against a carriage and pair an' smashes the panel all to bits—upsets a phaeton, an' if 'e ain't a-run agin this 'ere cab an' dashed it right over an' stopped 'isself, blowed if I don't think there'd been an accident!"—London Daily Mail.

Shades of Munchausen.

An examiner once visited a large school of some importance in the north of England. Among other questions he asked, "What is the cause of dew?"

No one could answer.

"Come," said the examiner encouragingly, "surely some one knows something about it."

At last one of the pupils got up. "The earth," he said, "turns on its axis once in every twenty-four hours and produces dew."

Fairfield will be held on Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. A. W. Brandt will deliver the address at the cemetery. Everybody is invited to attend this service.

Hunterstown Celebration

A large crowd attended the Memorial day exercises at Hunterstown on Saturday evening. The parade formed on the Square at half past six in charge of William B. McIlhenny and H. G. Deatrick, as marshals, and proceeded from there to the cemetery. The Citizens' Band, of Gettysburg, headed the procession and was followed by the school children, the Grand Army veterans and the lodge of the Patriotic Order Sons of America, of Hunterstown. At the cemetery the band played a dirge while the graves of the soldiers were decorated and at the rostrum an eloquent patriotic address was made by Rev. Prof. Charles F. Sanders, of Gettysburg, in the presence of a large and attentive audience. The event was a success in every particular.

THE WEEK'S WEATHER

Conditions Will Be Unsettled, According to Forecast.

Unsettled weather will open the coming week throughout the country east of the Missouri River, according to the Weather Bureau's weekly bulletin.

"There will be showers Monday and Tuesday in the Great Central Valleys and the Lake Regions," the bulletin said, "and on Tuesday or Wednesday in the Middle Atlantic States and New England. In the Central West generally fair weather should prevail about the middle of the week, followed by unsettled conditions at the close, while in the East the weather will be fair during the closing days of the week. For the South, the Southwest and the extreme Central West present indications favor fair weather generally, while in the Northwest fair weather will also prevail, except about the middle of the week, when local showers are probable."

"It will be warmer in the South, but there are no immediate prospects of unseasonably warm weather over any portion of the country. Low temperatures will continue for a day or two over the Northern and Eastern portions of the country, followed by warmer conditions by the middle of the week."

TROLLEY MEETING

East Berlin Trolley again Heard from.

A public meeting will be held in East Berlin this evening, at which subscriptions will be made for stock in the new electric railway line proposed to be operated between York and that place. Engineer Smith, of York, will be present at the meeting and give estimates as to the approximate cost of the three proposed lines which have been surveyed.

TIMELY HINTS FOR FARMERS

Dressing For Shears Cuts.

The following dressing is recommended by the Shepherd's Journal for sheep wounds:

For clean cuts a good dressing to prevent the fly from settling on the wound is a mixture of one part turpentine, one part Stockholm tar and two parts salad or olive oil. The turpentine is cleansing, and its strong smell keeps the flies off, but being very volatile it would soon evaporate if used alone.

Tar is healing and being strong smelling is objectionable to the fly. It also adheres to the wool and flesh and assists to retain the turpentine. Salad or olive oil tends to soften the severe effects of the tar and turpentine and also to a great extent prevents the tar from injuring the wool.

The same mixture is very effective also in destroying the maggots after the sheep are blown and in healing wounds made by them. Any lubricating oil or ordinary fat will serve as a substitute to mix with the tar and turpentine.

Feeding Corn to Horses.

If corn must be fed to the horses grinding it will not pay unless the horses have poor teeth, in which case it might be advisable. Feeding the ear or shelled corn would be the more desirable method of feeding.

Crushed corn and cob meal are not as good because of the cost of crushing, and the amount of food value secured from the cob is so small that it does not make up for the energy required to digest so much crude fiber.

A combination of corn, bran and a little oilmeal makes a good summer ration for horses. Feeding a 1,000 pound horse about ten pounds of corn and three pounds of bran per day would be equivalent to fourteen pounds of oats, although it contains a little more carbohydrates and less protein, thus making a little wider ration. A small amount of oilmeal would offset this, however.

Equally So.

Frank Dixon as Lecturer AT THE 1913 CHAUTAUQUA.

The man never moves from his theme, he makes few gestures. But the play of his face and voice are remarkable. It is a positive face and a powerful voice. The words hurry forth each in order snap, snap, snap. Every little while head and arms go up and then down with something of a crash. Then there is a round of sarcasm that withers, and the face fills with hard lines. But just in time he relents and smiles. He doesn't wait for the audience; he is the aggressor every minute. The audience long ago surrendered and he holds it in the hollow of his hand. Up and down, crash upon crash, turning rapid corners, he hurries with ripples of applause nipped off in the rush. All the time you begin to understand. He is a general, hurrying out fact after fact into battle formation, regiment after regiment, battalion upon battalion, until his battle is won! This summer he gives a new masterpiece, "An Outgrown Constitution."

Shelley and the Kiss.

The supreme laureate of the kiss is Shelley. The word is seldom absent from his shorter lyrics. Here is one stanza laden with kisses:

See the mountains kiss high heaven
And the waves kiss one another
No sister flower would be forgiven
If it disdained its brother
And the sunlight clasps the earth
And the moonbeams kiss the sea
What are all those kissings worth
If thou kiss not me?
